Hot Food Holding, Elevated

Designed to illuminate and display prepared hot foods at proper serving temperatures while retaining ideal texture, flavor, and moisture.

Bain-Marie Heated Display Case

The Vollrath bain-marie heated display case illuminates and displays prepared, preheated foods at proper serving temperatures. The double-wall stainless steel base reduces heat loss, keeping food moist and flavorful without overheating. Unique heating element allows the well to be used dry or wet, with an energy regulator dial for complete temperature control to maintain food safety and quality. Included adapter bars allow you to divide wells as needed, and cleaning is simplified with rear doors that simply lift out. Use as a countertop case or with included legs, and an optional self-serve kit is available separately.
